OP System

Structured specifications become portable numerical contracts.

Spatial discretization and time/event integration belong to numerical consumers. The compiler publishes field, operator and reaction contracts; cross-axis constraints remain metadata.