trade-study

Replicated experiments connect scientific alternatives to decisions.

Optional integrations provide proper scores, adaptive search, surrogates and model weighting. Calibration, gate power and transfer to observed data need separate application evidence.